

Data4 launches a major recruitment campaign to accelerate its growth

The goal set by the European data center champion Data4 is to increase its workforce of over 66% in 2025.

Paris, June 17th 2025 - Data4, the European leader in data centers, announces an exceptional recruitment campaign to support its strong growth. After announcing in February an investment of €15 billion in France by 2030, the group reaffirms its ambition to make the country a key hub for the development of artificial intelligence. To this end, and to meet the growing demands of its clients, the operator has opened several new permanent positions to be filled as soon as possible.

In 2024, thanks to the strong attractiveness of the sector, Data4 successfully increased its workforce by 30%, a figure that is expected to more than double, reaching a 66% increase in workforce in 2025. Although two thirds of the positions are to be filled in France, opportunities are also available in other countries where the group operates (Italy, Spain, Poland, Germany, Greece).

As data centers are the pillars of our digital lives, Data4 advocates for greater awareness of the critical importance of its infrastructures and its professionals, who are committed to storing and protecting essential services such as banking and healthcare. Through this recruitment campaign, which targets talents not only from the digital sector but also from other industries, the group reminds us that behind every click, every video watched, every email sent, there is a data center where our data is stored, processed and transmitted, and that people are dedicated every day to ensuring the continuity of service.

"The data center sector is undergoing a major transformation, which requires strengthening our teams to scale up. Among the open positions at Data4, three rapidly growing departments stand out for the diversity of their profiles and areas of expertise: operations, construction and finance," says Marion Enjolras, Chief Human Resources Officer at Data4 Group. "Above all, we are looking for committed talents, aware of the responsibility we have toward our clients, and capable of showing great adaptability: this is part of who we are."

"As a European leader, attracting new talents is an absolute necessity. Increasing our workforce by 66% by the end of the year is certainly ambitious, but essential. At Data4, we are proud to support our new talents in a dynamic environment, with continuous training opportunities and strong diversity within our teams," says Olivier Micheli, President of Data4 Group.
